THE Family INSTITUTE
AT NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

Knowledge and caring families count on
Each year, thousands of people take an important first step in the process of changing their lives by making an appointment with a Family Institute psychotherapist, either through our staff practice or at our Bette D. Harris Family and Child Clinic, which offers a sliding-fee scale. No matter which of these options is chosen, all clients receive prompt and courteous attention, clinical excellence and professional discretion.

Nationally-Recognized Staff Practice
More than 40 highly qualified, licensed psychotherapists – all with advanced training and extensive experience – offer comprehensive services to individuals, couples and families at locations throughout metropolitan Chicago.

Each of our respected and caring professionals specializes in specific issues, ensuring that clients are matched with an expert in their particular areas of concern.

Teams of psychotherapists are available for clinical consultation on certain cases, bringing a wealth of knowledge and experience to clients.

Many of our distinguished psychotherapists hold faculty appointments at Northwestern University and teach graduate-level courses in marital and family therapy.

Bette D. Harris Family and Child Clinic
Psychotherapy is provided at the Bette D. Harris Family and Child Clinic on a sliding-fee scale by postgraduate and graduate-level therapists-in-training and psychiatric residents who receive intensive supervision by senior staff and faculty. Clients with all levels of income receive exceptional and cost-effective treatment at the Clinic. We encourage people to pay what they are able, regardless of employment or insurance status.

The Clinic is staffed by:

- Fellows – postgraduate professionals who are completing a two-year commitment of advanced training in marital and family therapy

- Graduate Level Therapists – Northwestern University graduate students who meet rigorous academic and professional service requirements and are supervised by our staff clinicians

- Psychiatric Residents – Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine psychiatrists-in-training

Fees
Staff psychotherapists at The Family Institute set their fees individually. We recommend that fees be discussed with the therapist prior to the first session. Services at reduced rates are provided on a sliding-fee scale through the Bette D. Harris Family and Child Clinic. No one is turned away, regardless of ability to pay.

Insurance
Blue Cross/Blue Shield PPO is our preferred provider. Some Family Institute therapists contract individually with other insurance companies. Discuss insurance coverage with the prospective psychotherapist before therapy begins. Bette D. Harris Family and Child Clinic clients should discuss all insurance questions with the intake coordinator during the intake call when fees are set. We encourage clients to discuss benefits directly with their insurance providers.

Hours and Appointments
We offer flexible daytime, evening and Saturday hours. To make an appointment at The Family Institute, call 847-733-4300, ext. 0 and arrange for a phone consultation with an intake coordinator. After a brief informational phone interview, our intake coordinator will recommend a psychotherapist whose clinical interests/expertise best matches your specific needs. Once a selection is made, the psychotherapist will contact the client within 2-3 business days to schedule the first appointment.
