Master of Science Program in Marriage and Family Therapy Program Specific Application

Application Deadline and Options

Applications for admission are accepted beginning October 1, 2026, for admission for the 2027-2028 Academic Year. You may apply *Early Decision or Regular Decision. Program slots tend to fill quickly so we encourage you to submit your application as early as possible.

Application Deadline
December 2, 2026

Early Decision

If you are certain that Northwestern is where you want to study, we encourage you to apply under our Early Decision plan. As with all traditional Early Decision plans, if admitted, you agree to withdraw all applications at other colleges and enroll at Northwestern in the Fall.

Applicants who choose Early Decision send a strong, positive message to Northwestern. Given their high level of interest and overall academic and personal strength, Early Decision applicants enjoy a higher rate of admission.

Applicants who apply for *Early Decision admission may be invited to attend the exclusive Master of Science in Marriage and Family Therapy Program Early Admission Interview. During the interview, applicants will meet the MSMFT Program core faculty and some of the current students, participate in a group interview, and learn more about the program. We admit qualified applicants in the Early Decision applicant pool first. Early admission decisions are typically made within 2 weeks after the interview.

Those applicants who apply for Early Decision but are not admitted are placed in the Regular Decision applicant pool upon request by the applicant.

Regular Decision

Applicants who apply for Regular Decision may be invited to attend the Master of Science in Marriage and Family Therapy Regular Admission Interview. During the interview, applicants will meet the MSMFT Program core faculty and some of the current students, participate in a group interview, and learn more about the program. Admission decisions for regular decision applicants are made on a rolling basis.

☐ Yes

☐ No

If yes, please provide a detailed account:

Answering "yes" to these questions does not constitute an automatic exclusion from admissions. Factors such as date of offense, seriousness and nature of the violation and rehabilitation will be taken into account. We consider all disclosures in the context of our commitment to fairness, safety, and student success.

The Family Institute at Northwestern University requires all applicants who have received conditional admission to either the Master of Arts Program in Counseling or the Master of Science Program in Marriage and Family Therapy to complete an online background check to determine criminal history. Having an adverse criminal history finding does not necessarily preclude admission. Determinations are considered on a case-by-case basis. In the event that information from the background report is utilized in whole or in part in making an adverse decision with regard to an applicant's admission, before making the adverse decision, the Institute will provide the student with a copy of the consumer report and a written description of his or her rights under the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act.

Northwestern University Admission Policy

The Graduate School adheres to Northwestern's Non-Discrimination Statement as stated by the Office of Civil Rights and Title IX Compliance. You can read the statement in full here. Any alleged violations of this policy or questions regarding the law with respect to nondiscrimination should be addressed to the Office of Civil Rights and Title IX Compliance, 1800 Sherman Avenue, Suite 4500, Evanston, Illinois 60201; phone 847-467-6165.

Applicants seeking disability accommodations should contact AccessibleNU at 847-467-5530. See the AccessibleNU website for more information.

Northwestern University does not find it possible to admit all applicants who meet its admission requirements. The University, therefore, reserves the right to refuse admission to any applicant. The University also reserves the right to require the withdrawal of any student whose condition endangers his or her own health or the health of other students or precludes him or her from doing the required work.

I certify that all statements made in this application for admission to the Master of Science in Marriage and Family Therapy Program in The Graduate School of Northwestern University are correct, and I realize that all documents submitted in support of this application become the property of Northwestern University.

Applicant Acknowledgement of Regulatory Alignment

Marriage and Family Therapy (MFT) is a profession that leads to licensure in all 50 states; however, each state has its own law and regulations about what is needed to become licensed as an MFT in that state.

Not every state will accept a degree and supervised hours earned in another state. Review license requirements in the state you intend to practice as soon as possible so that you understand what may and may not be accepted across state lines. Here is the link to information about each state's licensure resources: MFT State/Provincial Resources (AAMFT.org)

The coursework for the Master of Science in Marriage and Family Therapy (MSMFT) program at Northwestern University was designed to meet MFT licensure requirements in the state of Illinois. You may read more about the state requirements for MFT licensure in Illinois by clicking this link: Illinois Department of Financial and Professional Regulation - MFT Licensing Information

If you have questions about the program's alignment with professional licensure you may contact the Department Chair: Dr. Kristina Brown.

Please sign this form and return with your program admissions application.

It is recommended that you keep a copy of this form in your files.

I acknowledge that I have been informed and am aware that licensing regulations differ across states and provinces. I understand that Northwestern University's MSMFT program is designed to meet the licensure requirements in the state of Illinois, and that an MFT degree from this program may not meet MFT licensing requirements in a different state.
